The Bush Family Parent Challenge for the William Greenleaf Eliot Society
How Parent Gifts Are Used
Gifts to the Parents Annual Fund directly support students’ undergraduate schools or other Annual Fund programs as designated by parents. These resources provide deans and directors the flexibility to fund top priorities in their schools and programs. All schools focus on scholarships, internships, and career development. Other priorities include:

Arts & Sciences
- Undergraduate research projects and publications
- Interdisciplinary and international study opportunities
- World-class faculty recruitment

Olin Business School
- Experiential learning opportunities (practicums, case competitions, etc.)
- International immersive learning programs
- Facilities and technology to attract the best students

Sam Fox School of Design & Visual Arts
- International studio/study abroad opportunities
- Studio and digital equipment upgrades
- Residencies and lectures featuring distinguished professionals and scholars

School of Engineering & Applied Science
- Undergraduate student participation in faculty research projects
- Innovation and entrepreneurship programs and competitions
- Global outreach and experiential education

Undergraduate Student Services and Special Programs
- Athletics / W Club
- Career Center
- Richard A. Gephardt Institute for Civic and Community Engagement
- Office of Undergraduate Research
- Skandalaris Center for Interdisciplinary Innovation and Entrepreneurship
- Washington University Libraries

To learn more about supporting other areas of the university, please contact the Office of Parent Programs at (800) 247-8517.

“We recognize the extraordinary impact parent gifts have on enhancing the undergraduate experience for our students. These contributions enable the university to continue its quest for ever greater excellence in higher education. Through this challenge, we invite all parents of Washington University students and alumni to join us in supporting the Parents Annual Fund and becoming members of the Eliot Society.”
